Kelly Pleads For Unity In Michigan GOP

Fighting Republicans Rapped By Engel

By The Associated Press
Two Republican candidates for governor spoke from the same platform Tuesday night.

One—former Gov. Harry F. Kelly—pledged for unity within the party.

The second—Congressman Albert E. Engel—took a pot shot at the newly organized Fighting Republicans, Inc.

Tax Bill Criticized

Kelly and Engel, who are among the five aspirants for the GOP nomination, appeared before the Romulus Republican club in Wayne county.

Of the Fighting Republicans, Engel demanded "what are they fighting for?"

To this he added "are they fighting for the same kind of tax bill the Republicans wanted in 1946? If they are, I'll be against them again."

Engel said it was the GOP tax bill of 1946 which cost the party the national election defeat of 1948.

The congressman said this was the bill which would have given an income tax cut of $110,000 to a taxpayer with a million dollar income and a 15 cents a week cut to an old couple's $1200 a year income.

Party Split Avoided

Kelly, who followed Engel to the floor, made a point of his own declared efforts to keep the GOP at peace within itself.

The former governor said the state central committee had "asked all candidates to conduct campaigns which will not split the party this year."

"Since Jan. 1," he added, "I have exerted every effort to strengthen the party in my talks. Kelly then made a plea that the primary campaigns be conducted in such manner as to leave the GOP unified for the Nov. 7 election.

Red Aggression Hits Philippines

Huk Raids Blamed On Communists

By FRANK L. WHITE

MANILA — (P)—President Elpidio Quirino said today the Communist-led Hukbalahap guerrillas' raids are part of a world Red aggression against democracies.

At a special news conference, called after Huk raiders terrorized many Luzon towns over the weekend, Quirino said he would appeal for organization of civilian groups in every community to combat the menace.

"The Philippines are as much a front now as Korea," he commented, but added that the new outbreaks would not change plans for sending Filipino ground forces to fight in Korea.

"It has become crystal clear that the Huks have taken up the Communist program of violent action," Quirino said.

"We used to minimize the Communists because they were so few, but with their present campaign and forces at their command now the Huks are forcing brother to fight brother, burning homes of their relatives and taking the lives of their own countrymen."

Night raids by the Huks over the weekend left a toll of 85 dead, nine missing and 66 wounded. Of the dead, 35 were Huks.

condition of the dam that made it necessary to 'reface' and strengthen the structure. Remnants of an old coffer dam built to hold back the river during the original construction are plainly visible in the background.

feet from the crest. The upstream face of the dam, shown above, was blasted off, reinforced, and resurfaced to a thickness of 18 inches. The downstream face was also chipped off, reinforced, and resurfaced.

Congress Hopes To Get Vacation Before Sept. 15

WASHINGTON—(P)—Congress moved today toward the possible start of a fall vacation in two weeks. Plans to wind up the session were hinged on indications President Truman would not ask further emergency powers.

There were some stumbling blocks in the way, but Senator Lucas of Illinois, the Democratic leader, insisted that the Senate will wind up its business Sept. 9.

House leaders went ahead with plans to give their members a breathing spell next week—with perfunctory sessions Tuesday and Friday—so they won't return to the capitol until Sept. 11. Congress could quit that night or the next day, if all went well.

The type of vacation the lawmakers will get after nine and one half months' work remained up in the air.

House Speaker Rayburn of Texas wants Congress to stay around until it has wound up its affairs and then quit until January. He argues that President Truman could call the legislators back in any emergency.

Lucas said the Senate Democratic policy group favors a recess, probably until after the elections, or an arrangement by which Congress will meet every three days but won't transact any business.

Senator Wherry of Nebraska, the Republican floor leader, said he prefers a recess until some definite date or an adjournment under which the Republican or

Malik Will Not Boycott Again

Red Delegate Toned Down On Formosa

LAKE SUCCESS — (P)—A security council decision to air the Formosan question brought assurance from Russia's Jakob A. Malik yesterday that he will not resume his boycott of council meetings after his August term as president ends tomorrow.

Malik said, in effect, that he would remain in the council to fight for the seating of a Chinese Communist representative who would accuse the United States of aggression against China in Formosa.

The council agreed yesterday to put the Chinese Communist forces at their order of business, after Korea. The United States voted for the Russian proposal after the council toned down Malik's language. The council voted 7 to 2 to investigate the "complaint of armed invasion of Taiwan (Formosa)."

China and Cuba opposed the consideration of Formosa. Egypt abstained and Yugoslavia did not participate.

Detective Cap. John Sweeley said yesterday that suburban West Allis police had arrested George C. Owen, 29, who gave Springfield, Mo., as his last address. He is held without charge.

The captain quoted Owen as saying he had been discharged from a Springfield ministerial school for embezzlement.

Owen said he visited ministers and churches in his role as a prison chaplain in order to get acquainted with "the layout" after his escape from prison camp.

Owen told this story.

He was sentenced at Savannah, Ga., Feb. 1949, to two to ten years for two church thefts. Four months later he escaped from a chain gang.

He then stole from churches in New York, Detroit, Omaha, Denver, Colorado Springs, Portland, Ore., San Francisco, and Los Angeles. He then came to the Wisconsin.

Gulf Hurricane Nearing Coast New Orleans Region Worried By Gale

NEW ORLEANS—(P)—The Gulf hurricane roared toward New Orleans today and was expected to strike the Louisiana coast this afternoon and reach the Mississippi and Alabama coasts early tonight.

Lucas said the main issues to be acted on by the Senate would include approval of a $4,500,000 tax increase, action on an economic controls bill passed by both houses in varying form, passage of a House-approved $16,771,000,000 military funds measure and Senate action on an anti-subversives bill which the House passed yesterday.

Wind speeds up to 95 miles an hour extended outward about 100 miles to the northeast and east of the center. Gales extended out some 250 miles in the northeast quadrant.

Winds up to 95 miles an hour extended outward about 100 miles to the northeast and east of the center. Gales extended out some 250 miles in the northeast quadrant.

W. R. Stevens, chief forecaster for the New Orleans bureau, said the storm would probably strike the mainland around Burwood or Grand Isle.

Burwood is a tiny settlement at the mouth of the Mississippi river about 50 miles south of New Orleans.

Grand Isle is a beach resort about 50 miles southwest of New Orleans, connected with the mainland by a low-lying causeway.

Communist rifle fire continued, however, from nearby hills.

On the central front northwest of Taegu, U. S. First Cavalry division forces attempting to take a hill position were forced to withdraw under heavy Red mortar and automatic weapons fire.

Determined to clean out the menacing enemy positions, the First Cavalry vowed to renew the attack. The hill was four miles northeast of Waegwan which is 12 miles northwest of Taegu.

Off-stage maneuvering was reported aimed at a settlement about like this:

1. Delay of action on an excess profits levy to take the profits out of war until early next year, but—

2. With a rigid agreement that the profits levy, when enacted, would apply as of July 1, 1950 or Oct. 1, 1950.

If the compromise is accepted, the retrospective application would represent a major victory for a group led by Senators O'Mahoney (D-Wyo) and Connally (D-Tex).

They seek to tack on the general tax bill now and make it effective July 1.

Delay in action would be a concession to Chairman George (D-Ga) of the Senate Finance committee and others who contend that congress may do serious harm to the nation's economy if it adopts a hastily prepared tax on profits.

The general tax bill, now before the Senate, would collect an estimated $2,700,000,000 additional annually from individual incomes, $1,500,000,000 from corporations, and other millions by plugging loop-holes and making other tax law changes. The House has not acted.

George said he will seek an agreement today to stop all Senate talk about taxes and begin voting tomorrow.

Wells Club Meets Thursday, Plans Health Action

A special meeting of the Wells Community Service club has been called at the town hall Thursday evening at 7:30 to hear reports of the health and sanitation committee. All members of the club are urged to be present.

The committee, after a survey of conditions in the community, has prepared a number of resolutions which the chairman, Joe Berube, will present for approval of the club. If approved they will be presented to the township board.

The club has 77 charter members and hopes to eventually include all men of Wells who are interested in betterment of the community.

The club has a plan under way to revive the old cinder path to the school as a safety measure. The work will be done by members of the club under direction of Hugh Ray of the roads committee. Assurance has been given by Lawrence Klug, superintendent of schools, that safety patrols can be organized to train the school children to use the path rather than the roadway.

Dust-laying oil is to be applied to Wells roads by Raymond St. Vincent at club expense. Needed repairs on the roads have been reported in the road committee report and attempts will be made to speed action to remedy at least the worst conditions.

Druggists Elect Officers Here

Leslie W. Olson Is New President

Leslie W. Olson of Escanaba was elected president of the U. P. division of the Michigan Pharmaceutical association during its 16th annual convention here this week.

Olson succeeds Joseph D. Cota of Escanaba, who has held the office for the past year. Upper Michigan druggists and drug dealers re-elected C. E. Siddall of Manistique vice president; W. J. Hebbard and A. J. LeSage of Ishpeming, treasurer; and E. H. Melstrom of Iron River, secretary.

60 Take Exams

Sixty graduates of Michigan colleges of pharmacy today will complete writing state pharmacy examinations. The tests are being administered by the state board of pharmacy.

Here for the convention and examinations are O. K. Grettenger, director of drugs and drug stores; A. G. Buchman of Iron Mountain, president of the state board of pharmacy; David M. Moss of Detroit, vice president; Don E. Francke of Ann Arbor, Stuart S. Steffey of Jackson and Paul C. Couseen of Detroit, members of the pharmacy board.

State Officers Here

Other officials who were here for the convention were Allan Weatherwax of Jackson, president of the Michigan Pharmaceutical association; Perry E. Converse, president-elect; John H. Butts of Lansing, executive secretary; Russell A. Oosting, Lynn H. Cook and Henry J. Maicki, members of the executive committee.

H. W. Atkins of Milwaukee, vice-president of Yahr-Lange inc., was principal speaker at the president's banquet held last night at Terrace Gardens, and A. G. Buchman of Iron Mountain was toastmaster.

"Every businessman must take an active interest in realizing the important part he can play in developing a dynamic economy at local, state and national levels," Atkins told druggists last night.

In America we can only have more when we produce more," he pointed out. "A lot of people are preaching security—the idea of working less and earning more—but we must do our own thinking and not be misled by this misconception," he declared.

"We hear a lot about rising prices, and I would like to warn that if Americans want to get more for what they spend, they must give a little more for what they earn. The old Chinese proverb, which says 'He who rolls up his sleeves will never lose his shirt,' still applies," Atkins observed.

Tax Burden Increases

The big question for the working man is not what is your take home pay, but what will your pay take home, Atkins pointed out, in reminding his audience that many are trying to change from a "free" enterprise system to a "safe" enterprise system.

With the mounting tax burden together with creeping inflation, one wonders if a person can make a success of business or anything else, he observed. However there are great opportunities ahead, he said, because of our expanding markets. The population of the world has increased one billion in the last four generations and is expected to increase 500 million in the next 50 years.

Knowledge, faith and decision are necessary to obtain happiness, opportunity, security from oppression and adequate compensation for one's efforts, the speaker concluded.

Adkins is a member of the committee on Home and Industry of the National Association of Manufacturers and a director of the national federation of sales executives.

Approve Permit For Gas Station

Improvement Favored By Appeal Board

The Escanaba city zoning board of appeals in meeting last night granted approval of the application of Hansen & Jensen Oil company to improve its auto service station at Ludington and Third streets, zoned for commercial use.

The approval was voted unanimously following a hearing in city hall to which owners of property within a 300-foot radius of the service station were invited to attend and voice objections. All of the property owners were previously notified of the hearing by registered mail.

Objection to granting the permit to Hansen & Jensen was entered by Harold C. Hayes of the House of Ludington. The principal objections, cited by counsel for Hayes, were based on public health, safety, general welfare of the community and damage to Hayes' business.

There were no other owners of property in the area who objected to the permit.

Hansen & Jensen's application asked permission to remodel the gas station and build an addition 29 by 32 feet to cover the existing grease hoist and washing stall. It was approved Aug. 9 by Loren Jenkins, city building inspector.

The service station has been there for more than 20 years and its use would continue even if the remodeling and modernization were denied, counsel for the company told the appeal board.

Stone Cutter Chips Stone As Hobby

LOS ANGELES—(P)—By day, Peter Zeolla fashions fireplaces of marble for the homes of the wealthy. By night the 52-year-old stone cutter relaxes with a hobby—chipping stone.

His idea of resting is to fetch his tools and chisel delicate designs on a rough slab of marble or onyx. Handmade ashtrays, bookends and lamp stands are his specialty. His latest creation: a scale model of a C-47 twin-engined transport plane fashioned out of brittle onyx—even to the wings. It took him two months to complete.

Harry Ruhl, chief of the state conservation department's game division, said that the shortened federal season was expected, but that it might be a "fair" season for Michigan anyhow.

He pointed out that Michigan gets first crack at the birds in the Mississippi flyway. Last year, he said, the state had 40 per cent of the hunters in the flyway and got one-fourth of the birds.

Altar Boys Have Annual Picnic

PERKINS—The altar boys of St. Joseph's church Perkins, held their annual picnic at Hemes park in Menominee Saturday, August 26. The Very Rev. A. C. Coignard was in charge of arrangements. He was assisted by his major seminarians, Gilbert Neurahr and Matthias Jodoc.

Attending the picnic outing were John Gibbs, John Carlson, Marvin Kinnar, Gerald Beauchamp, Thomas Hutton, Ronald and Norbert Deloria, Dick Eagle, Douglas, Donald and Michael Hackenbruch, Peter LaChance, Alphonse and Matthias Gaudette, Joe LaBresh, Gerald LeClair, Roger Ramseth, Alan Roger, John Severinsen and Jim Decremer.

The two major seminarians held classes every Tuesday evening during the summer months to teach the 20 altar boys the proper serving of the mass. They will leave soon to resume their studies at St. Francis seminary in Milwaukee.

Detroit Grandmother Leaves Family Of 239

DETROIT — (P)—In 1936 newspapers acclaimed a Flint, Mich., woman as the nation's champion grandmother.

When Mrs. Delphine Pilon of Detroit read that, she said: "I wouldn't want it said I was seeking the title of champion grandmother—but that Flint woman's record is nothing compared to mine."

Mrs. Pilon died here Saturday at the age of 90. Her descendants include:

Eleven children, 72 grandchildren, 134 great-grandchildren, 22 great-great grandchildren, total 239.

Growers Hire Bean Pickers

Harvesting Of Crop Now In Full Swing

The bean picking season is under way in Delta county, and pickers are urgently needed to get the crop in, the Michigan Employment Service reports.

About two hundred more pickers are required. Young people and adults, who wish employment in the bean fields, are asked to register at the Michigan Employment Service office, Ludington and 14th streets. Growers will transport pickers from the office to the farms. Wages are three cents a pound for green beans and two cents for the yellow.

Bean picking will furnish employment to several hundred persons for the next 10 days. The harvest began about a week ago.

About two hundred Delta county farmers are raising beans for the Coleman Canning company's plant at Gladstone.

Last year the Coleman Canning company packed 60,000 cases of No. 2 cans of beans.

Unity Needed In America To Win War Against Reds

Mickey's Devotion Is An Incentive To Humans

MICKEY, Councilman Sam Wickman's devoted German Shepherd "Seeing Eye" dog, is dead.

Mickey was well known to Escanaba residents. Wherever Sam Wickman went, Mickey went, too. Thoroughly trained for his job as the "eyes" of the blind Escanaba councilman and former mayor, Mickey was a conscientious, extremely patient dog. He led the veteran Escanaba city official all over town, through traffic, up and down stairways. He performed this function so perfectly that Wickman enjoyed complete confidence in his faithful canine friend—and the dog never betrayed that confidence.

Mickey's life of devoted and unselfish service to his master should serve as an example to humanity. Mickey's mission in life was fulfilled in an exemplary manner. Even in the last year of his life, stricken with illness and weary of heart, Mickey performed his duty without complaint and with apparent gratification to serve.

Comparatively few humans can truthfully say that they have performed their mission in life with the unselfish devotion that has characterized the service performed by Mickey to his master.

Yes, we can learn a lot from our animal friends.

New Street Lamps Light Birds' Nests

A city electric department crew has completed the installation of new boulevard lamp standards on South 14th street, but the results are not as satisfactory as many local residents had hoped.

The new lighting standards are undoubtedly well engineered and under normal circumstances they would provide better lighting of the street than the lamp standards that they replaced. Unfortunately, however, much of the illumination is lost in the trees that line the boulevard on both sides of South 14th street. The lamps are illuminating more bird nests than roadway.

The lamp standards that were removed on South 14th street were obsolete in comparison with the modern design. The poles were low and much of the light was lost in an undesired direction, upward. The new standards are considerably higher and the lamps are designed to concentrate their illumination where it is desired—on the street and sidewalks. However, the objective is not attained because the lamps are surrounded by tree branches and leaves, blotting out much of the light.

Inasmuch as the new lamp standards erected on South 14th street are the type that has been planned for general use throughout the city in the future, it is apparent that some serious thought will have to be given to the problem of trees in street lighting.

Iron Ore In Labrador Vital For U. S. Defense

FOR years, the St. Lawrence waterway project was opposed by the American iron and steel interests who feared competition from foreign imports.

Now the situation has changed. High grade ore reserves in the Upper Peninsula and the once famous Mesabi range are nearing the point of scarcity. The iron and steel companies, which own the mines in the Lake Superior region, the furnaces and foundries in the lower lakes area, and the shipping fleets have been aware of this fact for some years.

Fortunately, these interests were able to locate high grade iron ores in the Labrador region. And now they are down on record as favoring the St. Lawrence seaway as a means of transporting Labrador ore cheaply to the furnaces at Pittsburgh, Youngstown and elsewhere.

In view of the troubled international situation, it was a Godsend from the standpoint of our national defense that the Labrador iron ore holdings were acquired by American interests. The development also points in the importance of the St. Lawrence waterway project as a security measure. But there is the dismal prospect that the change of heart on the part of the opponents of the seaway may have come too late.

Warning

In the dying days of August when the wind is high and hot, and the browning grass is crying for the green it hasn't got, there's an omen in a yellowed leaf that flutters to the ground, and you hear a note of warning in the wind's prophetic sound. It is telling you that summer hasn't very long to stall, and to be prepared for all the lovely glory of the fall.

Sure, it's hot enough to make you think the air will never chill, and you doubt that anything could bend the summer to its will, but that singing wind is saying, in a voice not very loud, that it soon will bear the cheering of roaring football crowd. And the blazing sky is telling you it plans to break the drouth, and that ducks and geese will wing their fleeting pathway to the south.

Autumn's just around the corner with its wonders to behold, and there's beauty in the offing with its red and brown and gold. So you wipe your brow and listen to the message borne on high, as that singing wind goes scorching 'cross the country hot and dry. It is telling you that summer hasn't very long to stall, and to be prepared for all the lovely glory of the fall.

Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON
WASHINGTON—A tip to Senator Pepper on wire-tapping:

Why not subpoena John Fihelly, assistant to U. S. Attorney Morris Fay?

You will find that the police lieutenant who practiced Russian wire-tapping methods in the nation's capital was vacationing at Nashehead, N. C., when his police superiors began investigating him in August of last year for tapping the wires of Howard Hughes and others.

At that time Shimon received a mysterious phone call tipping him off as to what was happening. And he rushed back to Washington, where Assistant U. S. Attorney Fihelly told him he was under investigation.

The meeting between Fihelly and Shimon took place early in August in the cocktail room of the Raleigh Hotel.

In other words, Shimon knew that he was being investigated almost from the start. But the amazing fact is that the tip came from the U. S. attorney's office, which is supposed to uphold the law, not violate it.

This little incident may help to explain why—a year later—U. S. Attorney Fay's office again demonstrated a touchin' read for Shimon by delaying a grand jury investigation of his wire-tapping until the statutes of limitations had almost expired.

EXIT LOUEY JOHNSON?

Big guns in the Democratic party led by Speaker Sam Rayburn are hot on the trail of Secretary of Defense Louey Johnson. They know that Johnson is passing out information to the Republicans against Dean Acheson and U. S. foreign policy generally.

The men he is working through are Senators Brewster of Maine and Wherry of Nebraska, two of Truman's bitterest opponents...

Therefore, Johnson will soon feel the full force of Senator Lyndon Johnson's new "Truman committee," which will make a thorough investigation of our military setup, and lower the boom on Louey sometime after elections. Don Cook of the SEC will be chief counsel and will play his part well...

Johnson is so bitter at Acheson that when he appeared before closed-door Senate foreign relations committee hearings, he looked around the room and inquired mockingly: "Is there anyone from the state department listening?"

Again he snarled: "This is not the diplomatic speaking, but the military."

CHURCHILL PREDICTS WAR

Here is the inside story behind Winston Churchill's stirring demand for a unified Western European army. Before he made it, he told Paul Reynaud, ex-prime minister of France, that he is certain war with Russia will come before Christmas of 1951 and the West will lose all of Europe six weeks after the first shot is fired unless his plan is adopted. Churchill drew much applause but no support from the British government.

UNIFICATION WORKS

Congratulations to the three secretaries of the army, navy and air force for their friendly teamwork. Sitting around the table, they work out mutual problems before passing them on to Secretary of Defense Johnson. This has done away with the inter-service bickering that used to take place in Johnson's office. As a result, unification is now working better than ever.

BUSINESS BEFORE DEFENSE

The army is having trouble buying parts for its equipment—because most manufacturers are still catering to private business. The army can't get delivery on resistors for nine months, because civilian orders have priority. Yet resistors are essential for walkie-talkies and tank radios, badly needed in Korea. Dupont has also held up a large order of wire by raising prices on the wire covering. So the entire order now has to be renegotiated.

MORE RENT CONTROLS

Housing Expeditor Tighe Woods will ask Congress to restore his wartime power to control rents. He wants authority to slap new controls on critical housing areas and to nullify the action of cities already decontrolled. Woods' recommendations are now on their way to Congress via the budget bureau.

Take My Word For It... Frank Colby

MORE ON THE ORIGIN OF THE WORD "DOGIE"

In a recent article on the origin of the word dogie, "a motherless calf," I stated that I was unable to find the origin of the word. I gave the pronunciation as: DOE-gee (hard "G").

Several Texas readers have been good enough to send me what seems to be a very logical reason why motherless calves came to be known as dogies. Here is the explanation given me by Dr. J. G. Little, of Cleburne, Texas:

"In the spring following the winter of the Great Blizzard (1887), unprotected cattle drifted great distances and died in droves. Later, when the survivors of the herds were rounded up, it was found that many orphaned calves were still alive, but from hunger and a diet of grass, their bellies were distended with gas.

"It reminded the cowboys of the sour-dough bread and biscuits of their chuck wagons. Whereupon they came to call the swollen-bellied calves "doughguts." But the cowboy was a modest individual who was careful not to offend feminine ears; therefore, he formed the euphemism "doughy" for use in mixed company. In time the spelling was shortened to "dogie," giving us the present-day word."

Other theories from Texas readers are substantially the same. And I have come across two mentions of the word "doughies" in Dictionary of American English, University of Chicago Press. The first is from the Century Magazine, 1888: "They were mostly Texas doughies—a name I have never seen written; it applies to young immigrant cattle." The second is from the book "Wilderness Hunter" by Theodore Roosevelt, 1893: "Week trail doughies had been brought in by a Texas cow outfit."

IT'S AN ODD WAY to make a living, all right, but Ross Allen's daily work with snakes not only is profitable and exciting but humanitarian as well. For from the snakes he catches, charms, and literally milks come medicines essential to the treatment of various diseases. Left, a bit of fun with half a dozen king snakes. Upper right, an important stage in Allen's method of milking snakes. From glands in the reptile's head golden-colored venom, resembling orange juice, flows into the glass. Lower right, one of Allen's pastimes is catching alligators. It requires fast action plus terrific strength.

Florida Hunter Braves Death Each Night To Capture Poisonous Snakes

By MILLER JAMES

When darkness falls in the area around Ocala, Florida, a dark-haired young chap named Ross Allen likes to go adventuring.

Alone, unarmed and wearing only bathing trunks and a headlamp, he climbs into a frail canoe and paddles for miles along jungle streams in search of the creeping, silent death; the rattler, the water moccasin and the coral snake, any one of which can end a man's life in a matter of minutes.

And sometimes he wrestles giant alligators and sea turtles underwater, too, as a chance of play.

A shoooff? Not at all. Known as one of the nation's leading herpetologists, or reptile expert,

Ross does all these dangerous things for science as well as for fun. Thanks to his unique research work at the famed Silver

Springs Reptile Institute with snake venom he is a benefactor to humanity, highly regarded by the medical profession. He has supplied the Army and Navy with serum to save the lives of snake bitten fighting men stationed in many theatres of operation.

One Ross specialty is to dive in serpent-infested streams and stalk water moccasons.

After catching one barehanded in order to swim more easily Allen likes to place the snake's neck between his teeth, then splashes merrily along until the reptile is silently bound in his canoe.

A Profitable Business

Ross is about five feet eleven,

very husky and with a friendly smile. His plump body hides terrible strength. He also hunts gators at night, using a headlamp to pick up the shine of their eyes.

He can tell by glancing at the eyes of either a swimming reptile or other creature exactly what it is and about how big it is. A single nocturnal trip may net him a hundred snakes or a half dozen gators.

Fortunately for the rattlesnake he cannot see directly overhead because of a jutting ridge on its head. Now with expert precision Ross grasps the rattle at the base of its triangular-shaped head. Finally, with angry glands distended and poisonous fangs bared, the rattling rattle struggles in vain to escape Allen's vice-like grip.

He was born in Pittsburgh but has lived in Florida since a youngster. His earliest hobby was catching snakes and study their individual habits. He turned this hobby into a dangerous but highly profitable business purely by accent. At the age of 14 he got a letter from a pharmaceutical laboratory up north asking him to supply venom from 250 diamond-back rattlers and the same of cottonmouth moccasons.

The letter explained that snake venom is helpful in certain medical treatments especially for combating uncontrollable bleeding known as hemophilia.

Demonstrate Fire Fighting Advances

New uses of chemicals and modern equipment in extinguishment of fires was demonstrated here Tuesday afternoon by Ray Barta of Hancock, representative for the Anul-Dugas Fire Extinguisher company of Marinette.

Approximately 75 representatives of industrial concerns in this area and several Escanaba firemen attended the demonstration. The groups experimented with large gasoline, oil and propane fires.

The effect of sodium bicarbonate in extinguishment of fires was shown here. Use of this chemical, new in fire fighting, is replacing carbon dioxide for large fires, and carbon tetrachloride units in power plants, Barta explained.

Sodium bicarbonate is the only dry chemical which shows promise in the extinguishment of propane fires, the representative pointed out yesterday. The chemical is non-toxic and non-abrasive, he said.

Equipment for use of sodium bicarbonate now enables fire fighters to handle larger conflagrations and to extinguish them quicker, and provides greater protection for equipment operators, Barta noted.

Hillegas Family
Pets In Feud
Over Kittens

A recent feature story appearing in the Fond du Lac press tells of the feud in the lives of the family pets of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Hillegas, Route One, Fond du Lac, who are moving to Hyde. Mrs. Hillegas will be remembered as the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Goodman, 625 North 20th Street.

It all happened when "Freckles," a French poodle, adopted three 2-week old kittens while their mother, "Coots" stepped out for a few minutes.

Here is the story which was accompanied by a picture of "Freckles" and her acquired family.

"There's an old saying that possession is nine points of the law and 'Freckles' seems to have taken full advantage of this proverb.

"About the size of a loaf of bread with too much yeast, 'Freckles' is a French poodle owned by Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Hillegas, Route 1, Up until Friday night she and 'Coots' the family cat had been good friends, but when 'Coots' left her three 2-week-old kittens for a bit of fresh air 'Freckles' suddenly decided to become their foster mother, and things have been far from harmonious since.

"A visit to the Hillegas residence today found the French poodle affectionately nursing the kittens in a cardboard box in the kitchen, while 'Coots' squatted sphinx-like on a chair next to the kitchen table. Though her tight white curls hung in front of her eyes like all French poodles, they failed to hide the ominous glint 'Freckles' cast upon the enterprising photographer and newspaper reporter.

Fun Grows Tense

Only Mrs. Hillegas was able to get within petting distance of the cardboard box, as 'Freckles' made very unfriendly noises at the two strangers. Meanwhile the three kittens, which Mrs. Hillegas has named 'Spotty,' 'Tippy,' and 'Nippy,' made noises like rusty farmyard pumps as they enjoyed an early morning lunch.

"When Mrs. Hillegas took one of the kittens from the box and placed it out on the strange sea of linoleum in the middle of the kitchen floor, 'Freckles' streaked out of her sanctuary, seized her charge by the scruff of the neck and beat a hasty retreat back to the box. This flurry of activity aroused 'Coots' from her contemplations on the kitchen chair and the displaced mother leaped down to investigate. A few ominous growls from the French poodle changed her mind however, and she retreated from range. The only time 'Freckles' seemed confused during the interview was when the photographer's flash camera popped in her face."

Mayor O'Dwyer Deserts Good Old Ship New York

ROBERT C. RUARK

NEW YORK — Bill O'Dwyer, who is still technically mayor of our town, speaks a fine Spanish and is an affable guy, when he ain't pouting and has a pretty young wife, and is a devout Catholic, and so he will make an adequate ambassador to Mexico, which evidently needs one in a hurry.

The job is a good one. It pays $25,000 a year, and Bill will have a $12,000 pension to help fend off the wolf. I don't know how the altitude will reconcile itself with Bill's dicky ticker, the old heart bounce that has kept him semi-constantly in Florida and on the West coast.

But if I were O'Dwyer I wouldn't have let myself be chased out of New York with anything short of a submachine gun until my term expired. The departure looks just a touch peculiar.

A Funny Year

This has been a peculiar year. Senator Estes Kefauver's crackdown on crime has paid off astonishing dividends. It spearheaded investigations here which led to the conviction of Frank Erickson, the nation's No. 1 bookmaker, who had gone his gambling way unherded for over 20 years.

Frank Costello's Florida fellows are feeling the heat at the moment. District Attorney Miles McDonald has been pouring it on in his corruption crusade against New York gambler-cop collusion. This is the man mayor O'Dwyer recently denounced for his efforts to clean up a graft-laden affinity between the police, high-and-low, and the organized criminals who run the bookie business.

Things have been hotter in Kansas City. Murder has been done, under the portrait of President Truman, over racketeering squabbles. For a long time the close connection of professional crime to local politics has been suggested, as well as the tie-up of crime to police, and crime to Washington, and crime to industry. Mr. Costello, the so-called mastermind, has had a lengthy arm in the political cookie-jar, both local and national, for many a dreary year.

Chauffeur Gets Plum

As his excellency leaves for the cushy striped pants job in Mexico, he has had the foresight to feather the nest of close associates. A bodyguard, Joe Boyle, is supposed to be upped to deputy police commissioner, at nearly twice the salary, and would qualify for a $60,000 pension. Some applies to James Furey, a chauffeur, who was appointed deputy commissioner at the same figure. If Brother Furey goes with O'Dwyer to Mexico, his vacant slot is to be filled by another chauffeur.

Shortage Of Engineers Now Exists In Industry

August 3, 1950.

Although there is an immediate concern that the present supply of well qualified engineers may be inadequate, the outlook for the years ahead is still more serious, due to sharp reductions in the number of engineering graduates in prospect for the next five years or more.

Future Supply of Engineers

Estimates of the ASEE manpower committee, based on enrollments last spring, indicated for 1951 a graduating class of 35,000 for 1952 a class of 25,000 and for 1953 a class of 20,000. This number is below the annual peace-time needs of the economy for engineers to fill actual engineering jobs as estimated by the Bureau of Labor Statistics of the U. S. Department of Labor. This shortage will be intensified by the fact that many engineering graduates customarily enter other types of employment for which their training is preferred by employers. The expected shortage will be still further aggravated by mobilization demands.

Trends in high school enrollments indicate still further reductions beyond 1953 unless there is marked increase in either the percentage of high school graduates who go to college or in the percentage of college freshmen who enroll in engineering. Present indications are that the entering class in engineering this fall will be much smaller than was the class which entered last fall.

Expanding Requirements

Reports of the Bureau of Labor Statistics of the U. S. Department of Labor have emphasized the expanding demand for engineers. Their records show that since 1890 there has been a steady rise not only in the total number of engineers employed, but in the ratio of engineers to total employment. This is due to the increased complexity of technology, the wait-time demonstration of the value of engineering services, the increased use of engineers by government, expanding research in industry, the tendency of engineers to develop new processes and inventions which create needs for new kinds of engineers and technicians, and the growing tendency of employers to recognize the value of engineering training for jobs which have not in the past been considered engineering.

In view of the fact that the well qualified engineers graduating in June had largely been absorbed by industry before the impact of the Korean crisis, industrial companies had begun to be concerned over the fact of rapidly decreasing classes. The beginning of industrial mobilization has served sharply to focus concern over the dwindling supply of trained engineers to be expected in the future.

Industry's problem in future of engineers will be alleviated if increased percentages of college freshmen elect to enroll in engineering, and industry is urging student advisers to call the present situation to the attention of qualified freshmen.

Crash Victims Crowd Hospital

Cots Set Up In Corridors

Bed facilities at the Schoolcraft Memorial hospital are for the time being a bit too limited for local needs.

This is no reflection upon that institution's facilities. Under ordinary circumstances they would be ample enough, but the unprecedented number of motor mishap casualties has taxed the room space at the hospital to such an extent that some of the patients had had to be accommodated with cots set up in the corridors.

Nor is this the only thing complained of at the hospital. The ordinary routine has been disrupted—which is a matter of serious consequence in any hospital.

This has, however, had no noticeable effect upon the quiet efficiency that is characteristic of the place.

A sample of the rush that has been on at the hospital due to the admission of automobile accident victims in various stages of shock and injury, may be taken from the fact that on Sunday there were 12 of these patients admitted and on Monday three more.

Some of these patients were released after receiving a checkup and minor first aid treatment, but a majority of them are still patients suffering serious injury. A number were unconscious and had to have constant attention. Others had to be watched because their injuries had not been fully determined. Numerous x-rays had to be taken and then, just before routine would be re-established, along would come some other victim of somebody's carelessness.

State police, commenting on the motor crashes of the last few days state that in only one instance was a mishap due to slippery pavement.

Election Clerks Are Appointed

Special Instruction For Inspectors

Appointment of election officials to have charge of voting precincts in the general primary election of Tuesday, Sept. 12, is announced by Alex Robertson, city clerk. Formal approval of the selection was made at Monday night's meeting of the city council.

Mr. Bouschor will preside at the meeting and deliver instructions to the inspectors relative to their duties. Special emphasis will be placed upon election regulations relative to preservation of ballots and sealing of ballot boxes.

The voting places and the officials are:

By Midnight Tonight, Tiges May Be Out Of Top Spot

Negro Girl Shows Class In Women's Net Tourny

WASHINGTON — (AP) — No one knows how much longer the Detroit Tigers can say "there's no place like first place."

By midnight tonight they may be out of the top spot for the first time since June 10.

As they entered today's twin-night doubleheader against the Washington Senators they were only .002 percentage points ahead of Casey Stengel's New York Yankees.

And right back of the Yankees are the Cleveland Indians and Boston Red Sox, each two games off the pace.

No Power At Plate

The Tigers saw their lead narrowed to practically nothing when they dropped last night's series opener with Washington 5-4 with President and Mrs. Truman watching.

It was the third one-run defeat the Detroiters have suffered in their last four games and it demonstrated a need for more power at the plate.

Three of Detroit's best clubbers — Vic Wertz, George Kell, and Johnny Groth — went hitless in a total of 11 tries. Wertz has driven in only one run in the nine eastern games.

Tiger hopes of getting this needed power from the bat of Hoot Evers suffered a blow yesterday too. Evers sprained his wrist ramming into a wall in fielding practice prior to the rained-off afternoon game.

Mullin Near Hero

If the Tigers had won, the hero of the game would undoubtedly have been Pat Mullin, who replaced Evers in left field.

Mullin blasted Detroit into a 4-3 lead in the fifth when he socked his second homer of the season over the right field fence after Johnny Lopis singled.

Mullin also made a shoe string catch in the eighth to start a double play and cut short a Washington rally.

President Truman, attending his first game since Washington's season opener, saw Paul (Diz) Trout lose his fourth game as against 11 wins.

Sid Hudson limited the Tigers to six hits. In the last four innings the only Tiger to reach first base was Mullin, who walked.

The Tigers jumped to a 1-0 lead in the first on an error, Lopis' single, and a walk to Jerry Fritsch. Singles by Bob Swift and Priddy gave Trout a two-run margin in the third.

But he lost it in the fourth when he gave up four successive singles, good for three runs. Mullin then homered in the fifth to put the Tigers back on top.

Tonight At 5:30

Trout started the fifth by hitting Gil Coan on the wrist. Irv Noren doubled him to third. Mickey Vernon's single scored Coan. Noren scored the winning run from third while Vernon was being forced at second.

Tonight's doubleheader was scheduled to start at 5:30 p.m. Detroit time. Manager Red Rolfe planned to pitch Freddie Hutchinson (14-6) and Hank Bowry (1-1).

Washington was to counter with Bob Kuzava (7-8) and Sandalio Consuegra (5-5).

By Midnight Tonight, Tiges May Be Out Of Top Spot

Negro Girl Shows Class In Women's Net Tourney

WASHINGTON — (P)—No one knows how much longer the Detroit Tigers can say "there's no place like first place."

By midnight tonight they may be out of the top spot for the first time since June 10.

As they entered today's twin-night doubleheader against the Washington Senators they were only .002 percentage points ahead of Casey Stengel's New York Yankees.

And right back of the Yankees are the Cleveland Indians and Boston Red Sox, each two games off the pace.

No Power At Plate

The Tigers saw their lead narrowed to practically nothing when they dropped last night's series opener with Washington 5-4 with President and Mrs. Truman watching.

It was the third one-run defeat the Detroiters have suffered in their last four games and it demonstrated a need for more power at the plate.

Three of Detroit's best clubbers —Vic Wertz, George Kell, and Johnny Groth—went hitless in a total of 11 tries. Wertz has driven in only one run in the nine eastern games.

Tiger hopes of getting this needed power from the bat of Hoot Evers suffered a blow yesterday too. Evers sprained his wrist ramming into a wall in fielding practice prior to the rained out afternoon game.

Mullin Near Hero

If the Tigers had won, the hero of the game would undoubtedly have been Pat Mullin, who replaced Evers in left field.

Mullin blasted Detroit into a 4-3 lead in the fifth when he socked his second homer of the season over the right field fence after Johnny Lipon singled.

Mullin also made a shoe string catch in the eighth to start a double play and cut short a Washington rally.

President Truman, attending his first game since Washington's season opener, saw Paul (Diz) Trout lose his fourth game as against 11 wins.

Sid Hudson limited the Tigers to six hits. In the last four innings the only Tiger to reach first base was Mullin, who walked.

The Tigers jumped to a 1-0 lead in the first on an error, Lipon's single, and a walk to Jerry Priddy. Singles by Bob Swift and Priddy gave Trout a two-run margin in the third.

But he lost it in the fourth when he gave up four successive singles, good for three runs. Mullin then homered in the fifth to put the Tigers back on top.

Tonight At 5:30

Trout started the fifth by hitting Gil Coan on the wrist. Irvin Noren doubled him to third. Mickey Vernon's single scored Coan. Noren scored the winning run from third while Vernon was being out for second.

Tonight's doubleheader was scheduled to start at 5:30 p. m. Detroit time. Manager Red Rolfe planned to pitch Freddie Hutchinson (14-6) and Hank Borowy (1-1).

Washington was to counter with Bob Kuzava (7-8) and Sandalo Consuegra (5-5).

Speed Trials Held In Detroit

One Boat Picked For Trophy Race

DETROIT—(P)—The men who must pick the U. S. team for Friday's Harmontown trophy race were no nearer a solution today than they were 24 hours ago.

The selection committee is waiting for more speedboats to take qualifying runs. The committee will pick two more United States craft to defend the trophy against Harold Wilson's Canadian challenger Miss Canada IV.

No boats qualified for consideration in the last 24 hours. Earlier four boats had qualified. They are:

Stanley Sayres' Slo-Mo-Shun, Jack Schaefer's Such Crust II, and Such Crust II, and Al Fallon's Miss Great Lakes.

Only Slo-Mo-Shun has definitely won a place on the team. The committee will name the remaining two members from the other three which qualified and others which may yet do so.

Three craft have been experiencing mechanical trouble and may not make runs. They are Guy Lombardo's Tempo V, Horace Dodge's Delphine J, and D. Cameran Peck's Astrea.

Two craft were scheduled to make runs today—Walter Dossin's Miss Pepsi and Horace Dodge's My Sweetie.

The first heat against the Canadian challenger is scheduled for the Detroit river at 5:05 p. m. EST Friday.

Slo-Mo-Shun, which did its best qualifying lap at a dizzy 96.72 miles per hour, will be driven by Ted Jones, Owner Sayres said.

Sunday newspapers are prohibited by law in Melbourne, Australia.

footballers off the spot of being pre-season favorites. Latest release says the "seer suckers" have picked the champ only three times in 16 attempts....In the other direction, Southern California reports that Soph Back Al (Hoagy) Carmichael is "the best big kid with speed we've had since Morley Drury."....Sounds like somebody was getting star dust in his eyes.

Just Fine

Back in 1891, when Sunday baseball was made illegal in Cincinnati, the Reds were arrested every Sunday they were at home during the season. They'd be hauled into police headquarters, pay two-buck fines and be freed for another week....There have been numerous occasions since then when the fans have thought the Reds ought to be arrested—but they'd hardly be inclined to let them off for $2.

Dots All, Brothers

Doak Walker is scheduled for an "autograph party" in Dallas tomorrow when the book "Doak Walker, Three-Time All-American" comes out. He'd better look good in that exhibition game first or he won't even have to fill his pen....When Bobby Williams, pro at the naval academy golf course, found he had no left-handed clubs in stock, he met the crisis by converting all southpaws who wanted to play golf into right-handers....Would you say he had a list to the starboard?

By The Associated Press

Battling—Hank Bauer, Yankees

singled with bases loaded and two out in tenth to drive in run that gave the Yankees a 6-5 victory over the Cleveland Indians.

Pitching—Johnny Sain, Braves held the Reds to five hits in pitching the Braves to a 4-0 shutout win for his 17th triumph.

Sports Before Your Eyes

As part of his training regime (to keep his weight up) Willie Pep drinks several bottles of beer a day. That oughta make it easy for him to win on pints....The Texas U. publicity dept. is working overtime to get the Longhorns to the top, but by the slimmest margin.

Following last night's 5-4 loss to the Senators in Washington the Tigers once-comfortable four and a half game bulge was whittled to two percentage points.

Children Of Korea Capture U. S. Army

By HAL BOYLE

KOREA—(P)—The American army here is being captured—almost against its will—by a younger and more numerous force.

It is slowly becoming the prisoner of the children of Korea.

In every country in which the GI has fought he usually makes fast friends of the kids first. To them he is a military crusader with endless stores of chewing gum, chocolate bars and candy mints. And few could withstand these magic bribes lavishly dealt out.

They made the GI the hero of childhood from Calcutta to Casablanca in the last world war.

Not All Generosity

It wasn't altogether generosity on the part of the GI, although he was and is notoriously soft-soaped to children. But he learned quickly that through the kids he could win his way into favor with their families—generally families with pretty daughters.

And before long GI Joe was a one-man post exchange. He gave his gum to the kids, his bag of laundry soap to their mamma, his cigarette ration to their papa. And all he had left to give the pretty daughter was a chocolate bar and conversation.

But the formula hasn't gone so far in Korea. Few have found either temporary or permanent girl friends and most have taken no part in the life of the country.

Disagreeable Job

The frank truth is that most Yanks came here to do a disagreeable duty that has taken them longer than they hoped and they want to leave as soon as it is done. There are fewer comforts in Korea than in Japan and life generally is on a lower level. The GI has shown little interest in learning just what kind of people the Koreans are, although he has developed a great respect for their ability as soldiers.

But slowly the Korean children are winning him over. I suppose it is their plight that has touched him. At first they were as strange and furtive as their parents, peering out fearfully from their crude mud-walled huts when the troops rolled by. Then they learned to wave and salute and say "Hello," and now it is a great game for them to stand in the dust saluting and yelling "Hello, Hello, Hello," like little birds that have only two notes in their song.

They are happy, handsome children—those in good health—and as courteous and polite as the children of France. But many have legs and arms covered with sores, and heads so patched with disease the hair looks as if it had been burned out by red hot quarters held against the skull.

Begging In Streets

As the war goes on, more lost and homeless children, paying the price of a war they don't understand, drift into the cities and beg on the streets. It hurts your heart to see these tiny ragamuffins stretched sleepily all alone on a filthy path.

The children know that the

Do You Really Want to Take Off That Ugly Fat?

Recently there have been a number of new reducing preparations on the market, some of them based on the diet and vitamin "plan." It is obvious that vitamins will not reduce the body weight, so one must depend on diet to reduce. But it is also obvious that one cannot go on a strenuous diet over a protracted period, and any weight lost will be restored if the former eating habits are gone back to.

So what to do? Well, here is a tip to you "overweight gals" who want to fight "the Battle of the Bulges" in a different way. Ask for Rennel.

Rennel is low in cost and is not based on the diet and vitamin "plan." You never know a hungry moment while reducing with Rennel.
